Monthly Water Board Report

By Elizabeth Cowley

The Monterey Peninsula Water Management District (MPWMD) Board of Directors held its regular monthly meeting on Monday, October 16 at the Monterey City Council Chambers.

During the public comment period a request was made to allow all Peninsula residents to vote on the proposed New Los Padres Dam (NLPD) as the ramifications of the Dam extend beyond mere water supply and include environmental, economic and infrastructure impacts which will affect all area residents, not just those in the "benefit zone". A request was also made that the MPWMD, if the NLPD bond issue is approved, not to institute the user fee increase to senior citizens on fixed incomes.

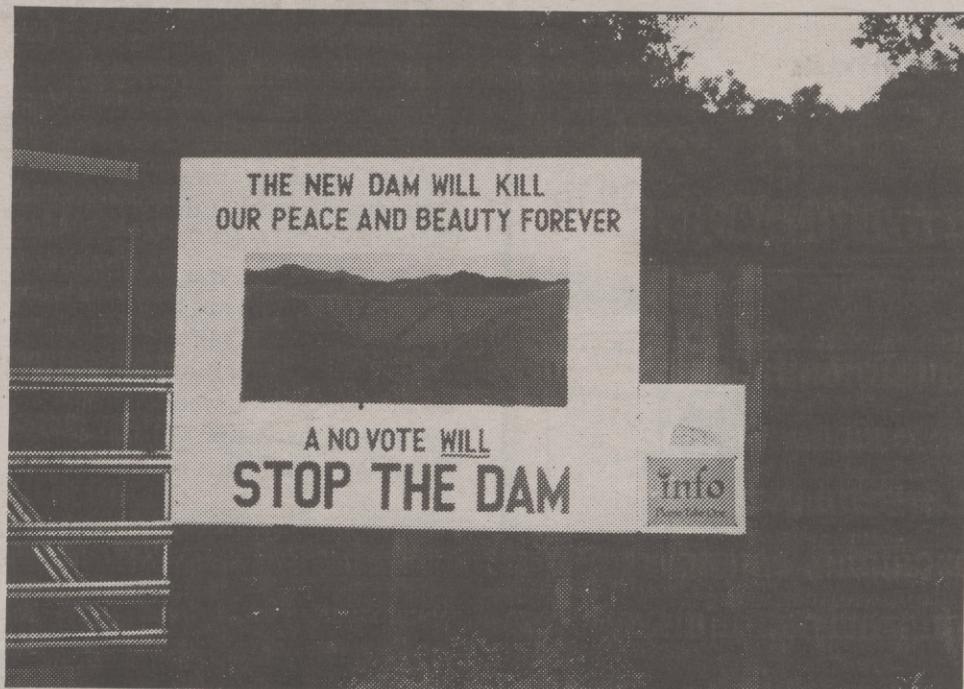

David Laredo, MPWMD council, reported that the deadline for the State Water Resources Control Board (SWRCB) to rule on the request for reconsideration of its July 6 decision passed without action on October 6, 1995. Since the SWRCB took no action, the June 6 decision stands and the permit for the NLPD will not allow more water in certain year types, as the MPWMD had requested.

Bill Hurst, MPWMD manager, reported on the District Policy Advisory Committee's (PAC) October 5 meeting to develop an allocation system for the first 5 years of the proposed NLPD. The PAC voted to support the allocation formula developed for the formerly proposed desalinization plant. This allocation formula basically consists of a fixed block of 40 acre feet and a rolling block based upon historic water use, vacant lots and permit activity within each jurisdiction. Specifics such as the definition of a vacant lot

A SIGN OF CHANGING TIMES - 20 years ago, on the heels of a long drought, the voters of Carmel Valley, Pebble Beach and the Peninsula voted to create a water district to build a new dam. Today, the population has grown and changed. The sign in the photo is one symbol of the grassroots withdrawal from support for the dam, which would provide more water for development throughout the Monterey Peninsula Water Management District. Measure C on the Tuesday, November 7th ballot will determine how the voters of today perceive the notion of a new dam.

Carmel Valley Fire offers tips for a safe Halloween

"From ghoulies and ghosties and long-legged beasties and things that go bump in the night, Good Lord deliver us." This ancient prayer is known by millions and continues to be passed down from generation to generation. It is a particular favorite at Halloween. But "ghoulies and ghosties and long-legged beasties" aren't the only dangers your child may face this All Hallows Eve. Unfortunately, the holiday and its trappings significantly increase the risk of injury to children. But, there are things you can do to prevent your child from being injured this Halloween.

Most Halloween injuries involve environmental hazards such as steps, uneven pavements and other obstacles that may cause falls in the dark. Flammable and cumbersome costumes, wigs and masks, and motorists who are unable to see also are dangerous. The Monterey SAFE KIDS Coalition and the National SAFE KIDS Campaign offer the following tips to help make your children and your Halloween injury free.

Falls are the leading cause of injury on Halloween. The fact that children wear costumes and walk in the dark in unfamiliar neighborhoods increases the risk of a fall. There are a few precautions you can take to reduce that risk:

Apply face paint or cosmetics directly to the face. It is safer than loose fitting masks that can obstruct a child's vision. If a mask is worn, be certain the mask fits securely. Cut the eye holes large enough to allow full vision.

Give trick or treaters flashlights.

Make costumes short enough to avoid tripping over them.

Secure hats so they will not slip over children's eyes.

Dress children in shoes that fit.

Mom's heels or dad's work boots are not safe for trick or treaters.

Burns and fires are the second leading cause of preventable injury to children. By taking a few precautions, you may reduce your child's risk.

Look for "flame resistant" labels on costumes, masks, beards and wigs.

Use fire resistant material for all homemade costumes.

Avoid costumes made out of flimsy material and outfits with big, baggy sleeves or billowing skirts. These are more likely than tighter fitting costumes to come in contact with an exposed flame such as a candle.

The Monterey County SAFE KIDS Coalition, the National SAFE KIDS Campaign and the Carmel Valley Fire Department recommend adults do the following to help make Halloween a safer holiday:

Accompany young children on their trick or treat rounds.

Attach the name, address and phone number (including area code) of children under 12 to their clothes, but not in an easily visible place.

Teach your child his or her phone number. Make sure your child has change for a phone call in case they have a problem away from home.

Instruct children to travel only in familiar areas and along a pre-established route.

Set a time for children to return home.

Restrict their trick or treat visits to homes with porch or outside lights on.

Remove breakable items or obstacles such as tools, ladders and children's toys from your steps, lawn and porch. Keep candle lit jack-o-lanterns away from landing or doorstep where costumes might brush against the flame.

Tell children to bring their treats home before eating them. Parents should check treats to ensure that items have not been tampered with and are safely sealed. Be careful with fruit - cut it open before allowing a child to eat it.

Halloween is a time for fun and scary pranks. But you can take the fright out of fright night and help protect your child by taking these important precautions.

Allow children to carry only flexible knives, swords or other props. Anything they carry could hurt them if they fall.

Teach children not to cut across yards. Lawn ornaments and clotheslines are invisible in the dark. Tell your children to stay on the sidewalks.

Costumed kids walking through dimly lit streets are difficult for drivers to see. You can help make your kids more visible by doing the following:

Decorate costumes with reflective tape.

Decorate bags and sacks with reflective tape.

Use Halloween costumes that are light or bright enough to make them more visible at dusk.

It is especially important to remind children to practice traffic safety.

Remind children to stop at all corners.

Tell them to never dart out from between parked cars.

Motorists driving on Halloween, including parents and babysitters who are chauffeuring kids around the neighborhood, need to take precautions.

Slow down in residential neighborhoods.

Obey all traffic signs and signals.

Watch for children walking in the street or on medians and curbs.

Enter and exit driveways and alleyways carefully.

Clean your headlights and make sure they work.

Teach children to exit and enter the car on the curb side, away from traffic.

Valley restaurant joins hands with British Pub

Taking a lead from communities that establish international links, Wills Fargo Saloon & Restaurant is forging close ties with the Queens Head Pub of Little Marlow, England, according to Barbary Fay, Wills Fargo owner.

The relationship was announced during a brief ceremony at the local establishment on October 10. Queens Head Publican Brian Lee and his wife, Judith, were on hand to join with Mrs. Fay and Wills Fargo General Manager, Prudence Ducich, in a pledge to promote the common interests in good food and drink among their patrons.

Both Mrs. Fay and Mr. Lee commented that they had received many visits from Britons and Americans, respectively, including residents of Carmel Valley and Little Marlow who were interested in a more formal association between the two establishments.

Little Marlow, set in Buckinghamshire, is a hamlet of 1000 persons, located 25 miles west of London. Mr. Lee pointed out that it is on the beaten track for those visiting Windsor Castle, the Ascot Races and the Marlow and Henley Regattas. Among former residents are Tina Brown, who achieved publishing fame with Vanity Fair and, currently The New Yorker, and who was born and raised in Little Marlow; children's book author, Enid Blyton; and actor Robert Montgomery and his daughter and actress, Elizabeth. During World War II, the Black Watch Regiment was quartered in the village's Manor House where Gen. Eisenhower and Field Marshal Montgomery were frequent visitors.

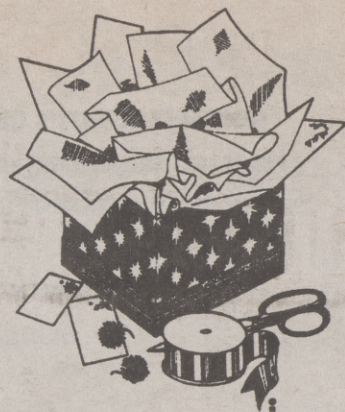

Mr. Lee said he would be encouraging visits among his customers to Carmel Valley and foresaw home and away competitions for the Queens Head cricket, darts and cribbage sides.

Mrs. Fay, widow of Will Fay who founded Wills Fargo in 1959, and Ms. Ducich plan to visit the Queens Head early next year to further cement relations in a "pints across the sea" gesture.

New MST services and fares

The service changes and fare increases that Monterey-Salinas Transit (MST) Board of Directors approved on August 14, 1995 took effect Saturday, October 14, 1995. The most significant changes include the extension of Line 7-Marina to CSU Monterey Bay, the combining of Line 2 Pacific Grove into Line 15 David Avenue, and increases in most fares.

New Rider's Guides with service and fare information are available.

With this service change, Line 7 will provide daily service on all trips to CSU Monterey Bay. Line 7 begins service at the Monterey Transit Plaza, travels through the City of Monterey and the City of Seaside before reaching the campus. The line then continues on to provide service to the city of Marina. In Marina, there will be direct transfer connections between Line 7 and Line 20-Salinas. From Marina, Line 7 returns to downtown Monterey via the same route. Minor route adjustment in the City of Marina will be implemented as part of this service adjustment.

Daily cash fare will be increased by 25 cents. The new general fare will be $1.50 per zone while the discount fare will be 75 cents per zone.

Minor adjustments in the schedule and routing for various other lines also will be implemented. These include Line 1-Asilomar, 3-Skyline Forest, 5-Carmel Point, 6-Kimball Avenue, 8-Del Rey Oaks, 9-Fremont-Hilby, 14-Presidio, 20-Salinas, 22-Big Sur, 24-Carmel Valley, 28-Watsonville and 32-Santa Rita. In addition, service levels on most holidays will be reduced and buses will not operate on Thanksgiving Day, Christmas Day or New Year's Day.

For additional information call Monterey-Salinas Transit at 899-2555 or 424-7695.

Rideshare program has rewards

Monterey Bay area commuters who pledge to use alternative transportation methods such as carpooling, vanpooling, riding the bus, bicycling, or walking at least once during Rideshare Week (October 23-27) can win a trip for two to Hawaii as well as many other prizes.

Monterey Ridesharing, a program of the Association of Monterey Bay Area Governments, has distributed 30,000 pledge cards to local commuters whereby they can pledge to try alternatives to driving alone. The postage paid pledge form also doubles as an entry into the drawing for prizes.

The goals of Rideshare Week '95 are twofold: to encourage the average person to conquer their perceived barriers about ridesharing and give it a try, and reward commuters who regularly use alternatives to driving alone. Last year, nearly 1500 Monterey County commuters pledged to share a ride during rideshare week. According to a statewide survey, a third of those who pledge to rideshare during Rideshare Week typically do so for the first time. Approximately one-half of those find the experience favorable and continue to rideshare as a result.

Commuters who request information on carpools and vanpools will receive a free "matchlist" from Monterey Ridesharing. This personalized list includes the names, phone numbers, and schedules of other people whose commute is similar to their own and who are also interested in car/vanpooling.

Rideshare Week -95 is sponsored by Monterey Ridesharing in association with the cities of Monterey County, Chevron Corporation, and the Pebble Beach Company. For a pledge card or information on alternative commuting, please call Monterey Ridesharing at 422-POOL.

VALLEY VOICE

Fran Farina

Perhaps the greatest freedom afforded us by the Bill of Rights is freedom of speech. With few exceptions, people in our country can speak, write or artistically create without government imposed restraints.

In earlier times, debate occurred among the educated who articulated well reasoned arguments. Today, the task of evaluating issues is more difficult. Many people feel "free" to express their opinions. What is required of us is to carefully explore these individuals' expertise and motivation.

Let's examine three examples and use the dam debate for illustration purposes.

The Chair of the Monterey Planning Commission (and potential candidate for Monterey city council) writes a letter in a local paper stating the dam will silt up in 30 years. He further states that growth will increase by 14,000 homes. While the author has no apparent knowledge about dam siltation, he does know a great deal about planning. Is his statement to be believed?

The second example is a commentary written by a Santa Cruz Supervisor (currently running for the Assembly) who lists his service as Chief of Staff to our former Assembly member, Sam Farr. He writes that taxpayers of this area shouldn't have to pay $116 million to build Cal-Am a dam to solve the water company's problem. He also believes that alternatives to the dam articulated by "thoughtful, knowledgeable individuals" may offer less expensive, less environmentally damaging answers than the dam.

Finally, a relatively new member of the Water Board with no experience in water matters prior to his election, states that the Seaside Basin can provide 4,000 acre feet (AF) of additional water at no cost to users. This is merely one of many "alternatives" he suggests which can provide enough water to solve our problems at a cost much less than the dam project.

All three carry credentials which make their assertions plausible. Do their arguments hold up under scrutiny?

The planning commissioner throws all general plans and zoning ordinances aside and assumes all water will go for new single family residences. While his figure of 14,000 homes is dramatic, it has no basis in fact. As for the siltation assertion, historical data show a loss of 20 acre feet per annum, on average. In thirty years, the 24,000 AF dam will still have 23,400 AF of storage capacity left.

The Santa Cruz Supervisor doesn't know enough about the project to understand that it will be paid for by users based on quantity of water consumed, not taxes. As for alternatives, he certainly ought to be familiar with the California Environmental Quality Act which requires alternatives evaluation.

The Water Board director doesn't distinguish between 4,000 AF of capacity already being used from his allegedly new found water. Free speech indeed.

LETTERS to the Editor

Editor, Carmel Valley Sun:

The Los Padres Dam is not only a reasonable solution to the Monterey Peninsula's critical water problem it is a necessary solution. The water supply must be secured to protect the quality of life in this beautiful part of the world.

This is not a question of pro or anti development but a question of our ability to continue to enjoy our way of life without severe restrictions. Losing 69% of our current water supply will create severe rationing and hardship. This issue has been beaten to death and now is the time to take responsible action to secure the water supply for ourselves and future generations.

A big salute and thanks for the outstanding front page 4-H membership article and pictures by Virginia Parke. We appreciated your giving willingness to come to Rosies Cracker Barrel upon such short notice. Marsha Kelly, Governing Board

Editor, Carmel Valley Sun:

Where do this year's crop of candidates stand on the Dam?

Some candidates have taken a clear stand on the proposed Dam. Others are exceedingly vague.

Are we to let potential elected officials get away with magnificent non-answers on the defining issue for the Peninsula for the next century? Taking a stand after the election is slightly too convenient.

Fred Keeley took a strong stand against the dam in editorials in the Carmel Pine Cone and the Monterey Herald. Where does his opponent for Assembly, Karin Strasser Kaufman stand? Will she support her longtime ally Water Board Chair Fran Farina or not?

Bruce McPherson doesn't really have any declared opponents yet he expressed concerns about the dam and was disappointed that Desalination didn't pass in 1993. If he has opponents, where do they stand?

Jeff Davi, Dave Potter and Edith Johnsen are all running for County Supervisors in districts affected by the vote on the dam. Where do they stand?

Editor, Carmel Valley Sun:

A new salvo has been fired in the intensifying battle over the Los Padres Dam vote scheduled for November 7.

A controversial audiotape has been released by Monterey Peninsula Water Management District candidate Christopher R. Wojciechowski and is beginning to arrive in the mailboxes of Division 4 voters.

Wojciechowski, an outspoken foe of the Dam, is directing a series of five hard hitting messages to Peninsula voters which he hopes will convince them to vote no on Measure C and support his candidacy for the Water Board.

The audiotape is expected to have a major impact on the outcome of the Dam vote as the low budget anti-Dam forces have had little ammunition outside of letters to the editor and small newspaper ads to counter the heavily financed proponents of Measure C.

Copies of the tape are available on request. Call 372-5559.

Christopher Wojciechowski

Editor, Carmel Valley Sun:

For years now, Cal-Am Water Company has been pumping water from the Carmel River aquifer. This summer, the State Water Resources Control Board (SWRCB) ruled that these diversions were illegal and that Cal-Am must find a new source of water. I thought that this water, some 11,800 acre feet, would come directly from the New Los Padres Reservoir. I couldn't understand how a 24,000 acre foot reservoir could provide this water, plus all of the "new" water for development that the MPWMD has promised everyone so they would vote for the dam, particularly if the reservoir doesn't fill up each rainy season.

Last weekend I got my answer. Fran Farina and Henrietta Stern were on a forum regarding the dam on the KSCO AM radio station. When posed this question, to my surprise, Ms. Stern said that the water wouldn't be taken directly from the reservoir. This 11,800 acre feet of water would be pumped from existing Cal-Am wells in Carmel Valley - the same Cal-Am wells that the SWRCB recently determined to be illegal. In our crazy world of politics, if the voters approve Measure C they will in effect be approving the sweetheart deal cut between Cal-Am, the MPWMD and the SWRCB. In effect, the voters will be making Cal-Am's illegal pumping legal, thus giving Cal-Am legal rights to the 11,800 acre feet of water that the SWRCB denied them this summer.

Recently Fran Farina wrote the Herald Letter Box and said she wasn't campaigning for the Dam (it seems that only Colin Powell is making more public appearances than Fran). Next time you hear Fran Farina tell you something so you will vote for the New Los Padres Dam, you should also wonder what she's not telling you.

Editor, Carmel Valley Sun:

What has happened to the inherent goodness of the citizens of Monterey Peninsula? Something is wrong when after twenty years of attempting to solve our water shortage problem, we have a community that is divided over whether we need a dam or not. It has been studied to death by knowledgeable qualified people. We have from the beginning had the support of Senator Henry Mello who through the state legislature created the Monterey Peninsula Water Board District. We were able through our then Congressman Leon Panetta, surmount the impossible Federal Legislation to swap lands through an Act of Congress that was unheard of before. (We gave up six acres for one acre.)

Billions of words, seventeen years of heated discussion, with many different citizens serving on the Board, including an election in which voters endorsed support for a dam, we now must face the final stage to bring the New Los Padres Dam into being.

I believe that the Sierra Club has lost much of its credibility. I support the New Los Padres Dam. There are children who will be our future citizens who deserve consideration. There are business and construction people whose livelihood must be considered; whether they live in Seaside, Pacific Grove, Monterey, Carmel, Del Rey Oaks, or Sand City.

Controlled growth must be allowed. The limitations for growth are in place via our elected Board of Supervisors. Preservation of our golf courses and the environmental protection of the Carmel River is important. Preservation of the steelhead is required by the State Fish and Game Department. No, the dam is not a flood control project.

The temporary inconvenience to the Cachagua residents is recognized and is being mitigated. My sympathy to them and the wine growers, but most of them have not lived there long enough to justify their opposition to the New Los Padres Dam. I wonder how Mr. Gallante would feel if his winery were to be boycotted for his lack of consideration of the Peninsula residents? I know full well the peaceful feeling and the lovely surroundings in Cachagua, having owned property there.

Let us not forget that we are temporary stewards of the land and that God created heaven and earth for man to inhabit it. I can sympathize more with the Native Indians, but the realities of the world we live in must be recognized and accepted. They surely must see how much better off they are then how their ancestors lived. I certainly am grateful that I have experienced a better life than my Sicilian ancestors. That's why they came to America.

Editor, Carmel Valley Sun:

I used to want a bigger dam. People said the river would run year round. It would be there for swimming and rafting and walking along. The wildlife would thrive in the new habitats. The steelhead would run their annual course. Cottonwoods would loom majestic along the riverbanks.

To someone who has lived by the river for thirty years, that picture appealed to me. It still does. But lately I've come to consider the costs. I'm not just talking about the enormous debt the construction would create. I'm thinking about the effect on all of us who call this area home.

To the people in Cachagua and Jamesburg who will bear the brunt of the noise and congestion of this "water

VALLEY FINANCE

Douglas Pease

I can remember when our fair state issued IOUs for 60 days to meet its operating costs when our governor and our legislature were unwilling, for political reasons, to agree upon a budget compromise. As a consequence, our fair state lost its five star financial credibility and now pays a higher rate of interest on the money it must borrow to stay in business. Nobody won, not our governor, not our legislature, not us. The results of this political squabble reduce the quality of our lives...then, now, and for a long time to come. It is we who pay the penalties of such political abuse of stewardship.

Those of us who juggle which bills to pay at the end of the month need to borrow. The more we need to borrow, the more a lender will charge in interest to offset increasing credit risk. When we cannot borrow any more, we default on payments. When we default, we lose credibility. This is basic stuff.

And yet our leaders at our nation's Capitol are playing out the very same scenario we Californians know so well.

Our nation's Treasurer is juggling which bills to pay at the end of this month because, for political reasons, our nation's leaders are unwilling to agree upon a budget compromise. Our Treasurer may have to issue IOUs to pay our nation's bills. If it happens, we will lose credibility with our business partners. The fact that such an act is being considered already tarnishes our credibility. The consequences of issuing IOUs to pay our nation's bills will affect the quality of our lives. It is we who will pay the penalties, starting with higher interest rates. Ask any taxpayer in our fair state.

No corporate board of directors, anywhere, who barter away their company's credibility in return for personal advantage can survive the next shareholder's meeting. As they used to say in Boston, "It just isn't done."

But we're doing it. Again.

project", it will mean the end of a way of life. And with it the loss of long held traditions. This at a time when we are in desperate need of traditions to give us a sense of where we've been and where we're going.

I'm thinking about the cost to the Esselen and Rumsen Native Americans who are rediscovering their history on land held sacred by their ancestors, land which is part of their spiritual heritage. Land which will be under water.

I'm thinking about the cost to our collective sanity as massive amounts of equipment and material are hauled across the Peninsula, through Carmel Valley, followed by an endless chain of cement trucks, pounding the road for months on end.

Finally, I'm thinking about the devastating effect the dam will have on that delicate balance we fight so hard to maintain, the balance between man's wants and nature's needs, a balance often sacrificed in the name of progress and development, with tragic consequences.

I used to want a dam. I don't anymore.

It costs too much.

#2 In a Series on How To Be Secure In Insecure Times

THIS IS A GOOD TIME TO SELL!

by Rand Smith

We've been hearing a lot about how it's a buyer's market in real estate. There's been a lot of gloom and doom talk and I think it's time to look at the positive aspects of the market.

I'd like to talk about why a buyer's market is good for sellers.

You've heard the rumor: Now's a bad time to try to sell your home, because you'll have to take less for it. Here's the fact: Higher priced homes in Monterey County are not appreciating as fast as they once were, and that's putting them in reach of many more buyers. If your home is in this category and you want to sell, we may have more rather than fewer prospective buyers.

And don't overlook the silver lining in today's real estate market. Interest rates are as low as they've been for years (with the exception of last year). That helps the buyer purchase your home. Many people who were unable to afford a home are now able to buy, thanks to low interest rates, special loan programs and high availability. And that's good for buyers and sellers.

Remember, if you want to sell your home, you are also a buyer . . . of your next home. The buyer's market can work for you, helping to move you into a more spacious home.

By selling your present home now, you can greet the end of the recession living in a larger home with amenities you've always wanted.

No Hassles.

County starts incubator program

Golden Gate University and the Economic Development Corporation of Monterey County, Inc. (EDC) have won a grant to establish a business incubator program in Monterey County.

The program will provide a variety of services to assist small businesses in their development and growth, while bringing new business to the area. Services include: administrative expertise and start-up services; marketing, personnel and fiscal management consultation; technical expertise and general support.

The program helps the small business owner to network and attain the professional expertise, support and resources necessary to succeed and compete in today's marketplace; services that many small business owners cannot afford.

Surveys are being mailed to local businesses by Golden Gate University and the EDC. The information garnered from these surveys will help decide what direction the incubator program will take and which type of businesses it will focus on.

Watch for your survey in the mail. For more information call Virginia Cooper at 754-6807 or Mary Ann Kleine at 373-4176.

and whether allocations will be transferable between jurisdictions have yet to be determined.

On July 6, 1995 the SWRCB ruled that Cal-Am had to reduce its total water production by 15%, to be deducted from Carmel River well production, in water year 1996. The SWRCB determined a 15% reduction would limit Cal-Am production from Carmel River wells to 11,980 acre feet. Bill Hurst reported that in 4 of the past 5 years Cal-Am has been producing less than 11,980 acre feet from Carmel River wells. For example, last year Cal-Am only produced approximately 10,000 acre feet from the Carmel River.

The Pebble Beach Community Services District and the Carmel Area Wastewater District, who operate the Pebble Beach water reclamation plant, are moving towards expanding the plant's storage capacity through acquiring the Forest Lake Reservoir. The reservoir could hold an additional 400 acre feet of reclaimed water freeing up 400 acre feet of potable water for residential use. Currently the environmental reports are being completed on this project and it is hoped that these reports will support a "negative declaration" so that an exhaustive Environmental Impact Report (under the California Environmental Quality Act) and an Environmental Impact Statement (under the National Environmental Protection Act) will not be required.

The consent calendar was approved, with the exception of Director Haddad, who opposed an item authorizing the expenditure of $64,400 for an office, shop and electrical system at the Sleepy Hollow fish facility and $5,000 for Carmel Valley "Simulation/Optimization Modeling". Director Haddad opposed these items as he felt public funds should not be spent on NLPD related items until after the November 7 vote on the bond issue.

Dick Heuer has served on the MPWMD Board of Directors for 12.5 years, serving as Chair for 3 of those years. Mr. Heuer is stepping down after serving the longest term since the Board's inception and received a congressional commendation for his service to the community.

The vote on the $116 bond issue to finance the proposed NLPD is set for November 7. The next regular meeting of the MPWMD is on November 20 at 7:30 pm at the Monterey City Council Chambers; the meeting is open to the public.

Water district sets out to form a citizens committee to review new dam

At its October 16, 1995 meeting, the Monterey Peninsula Water Management District (MPWMD) took steps to enable the formation of a volunteer citizen's Finance Advisory Committee that would evaluate financing options for the proposed New Los Padres Water Supply Project.

The Water District Board and Larry Foy, Vice President and Manager of California-American Water Company (Cal-Am), agreed that the committee should function as an independent body to recommend the most cost effective financing mechanism for the proposed water project. Both the District and Cal-Am pledged to provide administrative support, technical information, and funding for consultation with independent financial experts, if needed.

"Cal-Am and the District will advertise in local papers and solicit nominations from individuals, local groups and civic organizations. If voters approve Measure C, the process to identify prospective committee members will begin after the November 7 election. Water District and Cal-Am staff will then select 5 to 7 committee members by mid-December, based on the qualifications of the applicants," according to Ray Millard, Administrative Services Manager for the Water District.

Once selected, the Finance Advisory Committee will set its own meeting rules, organization and agendas. All meetings are required to be noticed and open to the public. The committee will work over a 6 month period to recommend a preferred financing method that results in the most cost effective project for the community.

"The ideal candidate is a person who has demonstrated leadership in the community, and can analyze financial information," said Millard. "They don't have to be bank presidents, but an understanding of budgets, cost analysis and interpretation of data is important."

Submitted by Monterey Peninsula Water Management District.

Water district offers water information on internet

Information about the proposed New Los Padres Water Supply Project (including a new dam and reservoir on the Carmel River) is available on the Internet. According to project manager, Henrietta Stern, the District is providing factual information about the proposed water supply project for citizens who want to learn more about the project. The Internet address is <http://tmx.com/water>

"There's a lot of misinformation about the project out in the community. We think it's important to have factual information available so that voters can make an informed decision about this issue on November 7," Stern said.

The Internet information includes brief summaries that describe the Water District, existing local water resources, water problems, why the New Los Padres Project was proposed by the District, and a description of the project, including costs and environmental impacts. People wanting more detailed information can tap into an electronic version of "Answers to 20 Questions about the Proposed New Los Padres Project." This 44 page booklet is also available in paper form - free on request.

Stern also noted that the Internet could be a useful way to keep the community informed about the progress on the project if approved by voters in November. "The Internet offers many potential new ways to interact with the community about important water issues," she said.

Interested citizens can also call the Water District at 649-4866 with questions or for more information about the proposed project.

River flood committee issues "Flood Guide"

Every household in the 100 year flood plain of the Carmel River will be receiving a new bright orange "Carmel River Neighborhoods Flood and Disaster Guide," developed and distributed by volunteers of the Neighborhood Preparedness Committee of the Carmel River Flood Task Force.

The Task Force, studied what happened during the floods and how to avoid such disasters in the future.

The Neighborhood Preparedness Committee, chaired by Larry Levine of Mission Fields, looked into the level of readiness in flood vulnerable neighborhoods along the river, and how residents could be better prepared in the future. "We found that people did the best they could to respond on very short notice, and to help their neighbors when possible," Levine commented, "but most people were simply not prepared in many different ways. Homes were not set up to survive floods as well as possible, people didn't know what to do in the short time until evacuation. In many cases residents and public agencies were not adequately informed about how to communicate with each other in an emergency."

The Guide is designed to provide basic information that residents can review, use for planning and keep handy if the need arises to respond quickly to floods or other natural disasters like earthquakes or wildfires. It includes appropriate local phone numbers and local radio frequencies for getting current local disaster information, and specific things to think about and take out in cases of an evacuation. It also includes recommendations for how to be prepared in advance.

Linda Conlan of Camp Steffani, another active Committee member, added: "When the Carmel River floods, we here in Camp Steffani get soaked first. We really need to be alert and prepared."

State Water Board shuts down water petitions

On July 6, 1995 the State Water Resources Control Board (SWRCB) adopted water right Decision 1632 which authorizes issuance of a water right permit for the New Los Padres Reservoir Project of Monterey Peninsula Water Management District (MPWMD).

At the same time, the SWRCB also adopted Order WR 95-10 which addresses four complaints. Those complaints alleged adverse impacts on the public trust resources due to ongoing diversions by the California-American Water Company (Cal-Am) and also alleged that Cal-Am did not have adequate water rights for its existing diversions.

Petitions for reconsideration of Decision 1632 were received from MPWMD, Carmel River Steelhead Association, Cal-Am, Charity Crane, Sierra Club and Rancho San Carlos Partnership.

Petitions for reconsideration of Order WR 95-10 were received from MPWMD, Department of Fish and Game, Cal-Am, Sierra Club and David Keyston.

California Water Code Section 1357 authorizes the SWRCB to order or deny reconsideration in response to a petition within 90 days after the adoption of a decision or order. The SWRCB did not act within the 90 day period on the petitions noted above. Therefore, no action will be taken on the petitions. Decision 1632 and Order WR 95-10 remain as issued and will not be modified as a result of the petitions.

have made the publication of the Guide possible: The Barnyard, Carmel Valley Electric, Carmel Valley Racquet Club, Carmel Valley Ranch, Coldwell Banker Fox & Carskadon Realty and Rancho Canada Golf Club. No public funds were used in the publication.

While many people helped out in the development of this Guide and the Committee's other undertakings, those individuals involved through the entire 7 month effort included those mentioned plus John Stusek (Rosie's Bridge area), Claire Brenner (Camp Steffani), Nancy Callahan, Fred and Dorothy Steiner (Mission Fields), George Whisler (Arroyo Carmel), Capt. Steve Robertson (Cypress Fire District/CDF) and Dr. Russell Coile (Pacific Grove Disaster Coordinator).
